 - d) to approve a bonus plan granting, to members of the Management Board, the shares of the Company or the right to subscribe for them;
 - e) to assume a liability having the nature of a debt in any of the Company's financial years if such a debt exceeds the amount disclosed in the Company's annual business plan approved in accordance with § 12(1)(e) by more than 10% of the net value of the assets of the Company's capital group recognized in the consolidated balance sheet forming part of the most recent consolidated financial statements of the Company's capital group;
 - f) to make an investment in any fixed assets (which mean any payments related to the acquisition of tangible fixed assets, intangible and legal assets or other fixed assets) if in any of the Company's financial years the value of such fixed assets exceeds any of the following levels: (i) 10% of the amount of the net assets of the Company's capital group disclosed in the consolidated balance sheet forming part of the most recent approved consolidated financial statements of the Company's capital group; or (ii) 10% over the amount projected in the Company's annual business plan approved in accordance with § 12(1)(e).

The General Shareholders' Meeting

1. The General Shareholders' Meetings shall be held either in the Company's registered office or in Warsaw.
2. The General Shareholders' Meeting shall be convened by announcement to be made at least three weeks prior to the date of the General Shareholders' Meeting.
3. The resolutions may be passed despite the General Shareholders' Meeting not being formally convened, if the entire share capital is represented, and none of those present has objected to the General Shareholders' Meeting being convened or to introducing particular matters in the agenda.

4. The resolutions of the General Shareholders' Meeting shall be passed by the majority of validly cast votes, without the need of having a quorum gathered unless the provisions of law or this Statute provide otherwise.

1. The Ordinary General Shareholders' Meeting should be held within six months after the end of each financial year.
2. The sessions of the Ordinary General Shareholders' Meeting should at least provide for:
 - a) consideration and approval of the report of the Management Board on the Company's activity and of the financial statement for the preceding financial year,
 - b) passing resolutions on the distribution of profit or coverage of losses,
 - c) confirmation that the members of the Company's governing bodies, i.e. the Management Board and the Supervisory Board, have duly performed their duties.

1. The Extraordinary General Shareholders' Meeting shall be convened in the cases stipulated in the Commercial Companies Code, as well as any time that the governing bodies or the persons eligible to convene the General Shareholders' Meetings deem it appropriate.
2. The Supervisory Board shall have a right to convene the Extraordinary General Shareholders' Meeting, if it deems it appropriate, and the Management Board fails to convene the General Shareholders' Meeting within two weeks after the Supervisory Board has made a respective request.
3. The shareholder or the shareholders representing at least one tenth of the share capital may request convening of the General Shareholders' Meeting, as well as introducing specific matters in the agenda of the General Shareholders' Meeting or including one or several additional points in the agenda of the General Shareholders' Meeting. Such request should be submitted in writing to the Management Board no later than a month prior to the suggested date of the General Shareholders' Meeting.
4. If the balance sheet prepared by the Management Board shows a loss exceeding the sum of the supplementary and reserve capitals and one third of the share capital, the Management Board shall be obligated forthwith to convene the General Shareholders' Meeting in order to pass a resolution concerning the further existence of the Company.

1. In addition to other matters mentioned in the provisions of law and this Statute, a resolution of the General Shareholders' Meeting shall be required for:
 - a) any provisions concerning any claims for redress of the damage caused when forming the Company or exercising management or supervision;
 - b) sale or lease of the Company's enterprise or its organised part, as well as establishment of a limited right in property thereupon;
 - c) issue of convertible bonds or priority bonds and issue of subscription warrants;
 - d) purchase of own shares of the Company to be offered for purchase to the employees or persons who were employed in the Company or a company related therewith for a period of at least three years;

- e) conclusion of a subsidiary management agreement or agreement for profit transfer by a subsidiary;
 - f) purchase or sale by the Company of shares in another company, if the value of such transaction corresponds with the value of at least one third of the Company's assets shown in the balance sheet of the Company as contained in the last approved financial statement or disclosed in the consolidated balance sheet contained in the last approved consolidated financial statement of the Company's capital group, if the Company prepares it.
2. Any purchase and sale of real estate, perpetual usufruct or share in real estate shall not require a resolution of the General Shareholders' Meeting.

The advance payment towards the dividend

1. The Management Board of the Company shall be authorised to make, to the shareholders, an advance payment for the anticipated dividend at the end of the financial year, provided that the Company has sufficient funds to effect such payment.
2. To make the advance payment the consent of the Supervisory Board shall be required.
3. The Company may make the advance payment as part of the anticipated dividend, if the approved financial statements for the preceding financial year show profit.
4. The advance payment may constitute not more than a half of the profit generated since the end of the preceding financial year, shown in the financial statements, audited by the chartered accountant, increased by the reserve capitals made out of the profit that the Management Board may dispose of for the purposes of making the advance payments, and decreased by not covered losses and own shares.

The financial year and the reserve capital

1. The financial year of the Company shall overlap with a calendar year.
2. In the Company the reserve capital shall be created.
3. The General Shareholders' Meeting shall pass a resolution on the amount of the write-off from the Company's profit generated in a given financial year, supplying the reserve capital.

The winding-up of the Company

1. The Company may be wound up, inter alia, as of the day the General Shareholders' Meeting passes a resolution on winding up of the Company.
2. The General Shareholders' Meeting may pass a resolution on winding up of the Company by the majority of three fourths of votes.
3. The Company's liquidators shall be members of its Management Board.
4. During the winding up process of the Company it is not possible, even partly, to pay to the shareholders any profits or divide the Company's assets before all the liabilities have been repaid.
5. The assets that have remained after the Company's creditors have been satisfied or secured shall be divided between the shareholders pro rata to their contributions made for the share capital.
